Introduction

Taxonomy

Kingdom – Animalia

Phylum – Chordata

Class – Chondrichthyes

Order – Orectobliformes

Family – Stegostomatidae

Genus – Stegostoma

Species – tigrinum

Natural History

Stegostoma tigrinum is commonly known in North America as the Zebra shark. It is named for their juvenile coloration which is dark brown with white stripes. Their range is in the Indo-West Pacific from the Red Sea and East Africa to New Caledonia and Fiji, south to New South Wales, Australia, and Tonga. The zebra shark was previously known as Stegostoma fasciatum until the revision of its nomenclature in 2019 (Dahl, et. al 2019).

The name Zebra shark is derived from the distinct stripes patterns they are born with. This is to disguise themselves as venomous sea snakes to protect them from predators in their neonate and juvenile life stages. In other parts of the world, they are known as Leopard sharks after the spot patterns displayed as adults. Their stripe and dot patterns are unique to individuals, and they can be identified by them.

They are a nocturnal, bottom dwelling species with a diet consisting of crustaceans, mollusks, and fish. They have dental plates that shed constantly and allow for crushing of shells. They inhabit sandy bottoms on inshore reefs and are known to live from 0-63 m (0-207 feet) of depth.

They are oviparous, laying eggs with long sticky tendrils that allow the egg to attach to rocks or reef structures. They do not raise their young. Typical incubation of the eggs is between 99 and 243 days (average 145 days) and is temperature dependent (Watson, Janse 2017). Sexual maturity is believed to occur around 6 years of age.

The population in aquaria currently consists of 62% captive bred animals and 37% wild caught. There are several examples of wild caught eggs hatching in aquariums which make up the last 1%. These animals can reproduce sexually and asexually. Current studies are underway to try to understand the high rate of parthenogenesis. Parthenotes do not typically have a high rate of survival.

As of 18, February 2015 this species has been listed on the IUCN red list as endangered.

Genetics

The formation of the StAR project in 2019 drove the genetic testing of Zebra sharks in AZA facilities. This revealed two distinct populations designated as Eastern and Western. The studbook has defined these through labels but are not published because AZA facilities are not obligated (although encouraged) to take part in this program if they have appropriate animals. Please reach out to the SSP program leader and studbook keeper (lwatson@sheddaquarium.org and lneal@georgiaaquarium.org) if an institution is interested in having their animals tested for genetics or are in need of genetic test results.

Data Field Descriptions

Studbook ID – unique number assigned to each individual in the studbook. The studbook number is a permanent number.

Birth/Hatch Date – This field indicates the date of an animal's birth. There is a birth date for every individual. If there is any estimate surrounding this date it will be reflected in this field.

Sire/Dam – Numbers reported in this field indicate the Studbook ID of an animal's parents, when those parents are known. "WILD" indicates that an animal was wild caught, and its parents are unknown, wild individuals. "UND" indicates that the parentage of that animal is undefined. "MULTX," where X is a number, indicates that there are several possible parents, but the specific parent could not be determined. The possible parents within any given MULT are tracked within ZIMS and will be listed when you expand the 'Parent' field for that individual.

Sex – male, female, undetermined

Event – This field documents the movements (i.e., transactions) of individual animals from the first location to the current or last known location. This includes Birth/Hatch, Transfer, Death, Go LTF (Lost to Follow-up), Return from LTF, and Release. UNKNOWN indicates that the animal exists or existed, but its location cannot be reliably confirmed.

Location – This field indicates the location where the event took place.

Local ID – This is the number assigned by the institution in which the event took place. "--" indicates that either an ID was not assigned, or no information exists to indicate that an ID was assigned.

Date – This field documents the date that any given event occurred. Each event has a date associated with it. If there is any estimate surrounding this date it will be reflected in this field.

House Name – This field indicates the name given to the animal at a specific location. Individuals may be given a different house name each time they move to a different location.

Birth/Hatch Type – indicates whether the individual was born in the wild

UDF – User Defined Field
